

EDUCATION

Welcome to Cardboard City

CHIEFTAIN PHOTO/JOHN JAQUES

Nathan Morris, 16, takes shelter in his cardboard house Friday as part of the Centennial High School JROTC's 'Change for a Day' project to raise money for the Pueblo Cooperative Care Center.

Centennial cadets experience life without a home

BY JON POMPIA
THE PUEBLO CHIEFTAIN

A cardboard box isn't any kind of home.

Unfortunately for all too many, it's the only one they have.

To raise awareness of the plight of the homeless, and funds for Pueblo Cooperative Care Center, 40 Centennial High School JROTC cadets and students committed six hours to life inside a cardboard city, erected Friday on a grassy area outside the school.

While the cadets twice annually contribute to

More on the web >>>

CHIEFTAIN.COM/NEWS/EDUCATION

SEE CARDBOARD, 3A

